DISCOVERY OF THE TOWN OF SAINT-AFFRIQUE

SIGHTSEEING TOUR

1. TOWN HALL SQUARE

Formerly known as the «place aux herbes», where a vegetable market used to be held, the Town Hall Square, dating to 1862, is now the heart of a pedestrian area. Gaze at its mosaic and its Rams fountain

2. NOTRE-DAME DE MISERICORDE CHURCH

Saint-Affrique church, with its neogothic style, was completed in 1905. It allows you to explore history through its stained glass windows and the virgin madonnas displayed on the façade of the former presbytery. Don't hesitate to raise your head during your visit to the town and find the other statues.

3. PONT VIEUX

Walk across this 13th-century bridge which was the only one built over the Sorgues. It is considered one of France's most beautiful medieval bridges and is listed as a historical monument. Below the bridge, the green lane runs along the river.

4. RUE DU TRAUPONT

This street adjoins the Pont Vieux and is part of one of the first extensions of the old city district now called Traupont.

5. PONT DU CENTENAIRE

This bridge offers an excellent perspective view over the town: the church with its rising spire, the Pont Vieux, the boulevard Victor Hugo. Notice to your right, the Pont du chemin de fer turned into a cycle and pedestrian route.

6. LE BOULEVARD VICTOR HUGO

This boulevard is famous for its local producers market, which is held every Saturday. Notice a statue showing «Gavroche» (a leading character created by Victor Hugo in his novel «Les misérables»). This statue was made by the artist André Debru (whose workshop can be found in the Costes Gozon). Next, take a break at the Ilot Voltaire, a medieval district under development.

7. LE BOULEVARD DE LA RÉPUBLIQUE

You will enjoy this Haussmannian Boulevard with its mosaics and its wall decorations designed by Jean-Bernard Doucet-Bon, an architect from Saint-Affrique.

8. LA RUE DU LION D'OR

This street was formerly one of the principal entrances into the town. It was part of the main road linking up the Albigeois to the Cévennes. The name alludes to the village of Saint Rome de Tarn which coat of arms bore the inscription «de gueules au lion d'Or». (Red of the golden lion.) However, it is possible that this name also relates to an inn sign stating : «Au lit on dort».

Duration approximately 35 min

9. MAISON DE LA MÉMOIRE

Have a break at the Maison de la Mémoire and meet the heritage of Saint-Affrique. Then, walk down to the Paul Painlevé square where was held the old sheep fair.

10. LA RUE DES TENDES

The word «Tendes» designated the great frames on which the wet cloth was hooked once it left the fulling mill. During the 18th and 19th centuries, the textile industry was the backbone of the local economy.

11. PLACE FRANÇOIS-FABIÉ

Dedicated in former times to the pig market, the square owes its name to a famous Aveyronnais poet. Go back to the heart of the town, via the rue des Potiers, while looking at the virgin statues (four of them on the square). According to local legend, in 1854, a cholera epidemic spread rapidly through St Affrique. The inhabitants prayed to the Virgin Mary to help them get rid of the disease. Once the epidemic was eradicated, they praised Mary and had niches made in the walls to hold tiny votive statues of the virgin.

12. PLACE DE LA LIBERTÉ

Just like New York or Paris, Saint-Affrique has its statue of Liberty! The square is situated in place of the ancient battlements demolished in 1632 by Richelieu. Opposite the statue, you will notice the Griffoul fountain (Occitan word meaning public fountain).

SAINT-AFFRIQUE WAS ONCE A STRONGHOLD

Because there are very few remains of the former battlements, one has to imagine how the old town might have looked at that time. Here are a few pointers :

First, two towers are housing the stairs leading to the battlement defence towers: the Tour du Théron and the Tour del Bastié.

Then, a plaque commemorates the 1628 clashes between the Protestants of the city and the Catholic forces led by the Prince of Condé and Richelieu.

Third, then observe the boulevards that surround the town centre.

Try to replace them in your mind with three ditches, add the river Sorgues and here you have an effective defence barrier.

Finally, look at the three streets (rue Gambetta, de la République and Louis Blanc), which link the boulevards to the old town central square (currently Town Hall square). The entrance to each street corresponds to the gates of the former battlements.

At the intersection between the Chemin des Combes and the Rue Lamartine (remains of the former horse fair held in this street until 1958), you will gaze once more at the impressive Caylus Rock.

VIEWPOINT OVER CAYLUS ROCK : This rock was used as the bedrock for the construction of the Castle of the Counts of Caylus, of which nothing remains today. The castle was destroyed in retaliation for the 1238 rebellion by the Count of Caylus against his overlord Raymond VII Count of Toulouse, Marquis of Provence and Gothie. An excellent opportunity to enjoy a pleasant walking tour at the bottom of the rock.
